TRAVELLING AGENT.

Mr. Cesar E. Hacke is the duly authorized agent of the Daily and Weekly Oregonian, with full powers to receive and receipt for subscriptions, advertisements, &c., and to finally settle all outstanding dues to this office in Washington Territory; Victoria and British Columbia.

By Telegraph.

We are glad to give our readers this morning a more favorable dispatch than we have been allowed to do for several days past.

Gen. Grant is still victoriously pressing on. The final decisive blow will soon be struck, and Vicksburg be ours.

From the Army of the Potomac, we have intimations of triumph. The operator promises us details to-morrow of the victory gained by Gen. Meade in his first battle. We sincerely hope that we, and our readers will not be disappointed, but that dark as the Fourth of July seemed here, it was full of joy and satisfaction in the East.

We also publish several items of intelligence which have not as yet been in our columns.

General George Meade.—The commander of the Army of the Potomac, though not so widely known as a number of other Generals in our service, is a veteran soldier whose merits have been freely acknowledged wherever he has fought. George Meade was appointed a cadet a West Point, from the District of Columbia. Graduating in July, 1835, he received a commission as Brevet Second Lieutenant in the Third Artillery. He participated in the battles of Palo Alto and Monterey, during the Mexican war, and was promoted for gallant conduct. We next hear of this officer as a Brigadier General, after the battle of Bull Run, commanding a Brigade in the famous "Pennsylvania Reserve Corps;" and he has been identified with the Army of the Potomac, behaving with conspicuous bravery in every battle from the commencement of the seven days' struggle before Richmond to the great battle of Chancellorville. Meade succeeded Reynolds as commander of the Pennsylvania Reserves, and was subsequently selected by Hooker to command the Fifth Corps. During Burnsides' attack on Fredericksburg, this General led the advance of Franklin's grand division on the left, and though not properly supported, achieved the only success that was obtained on that disastrous day. The correspondents of the press have occasionally spoken a good word for General Meade, and the reports of his superior officers have frequently commended his valor and resolute performance of duty; but as a quiet, modest, undemonstrative man, he has never forced himself into print, and has kept free from cliqueism. Whether he has the ability to handle so large a body of men as the Army of the Potomac, or the personal magnetism to inspire the troops with confidence, remains to be determined. The intimation we have this morning of his success in his first battle, inspires us with the hope that prudence, skill and bravery on his part, will henceforward give to our Army the victories which patriotism merits, and their fortitude deserves and will win under a good commander.

Man Killed.—A man by the name of Graham was killed at Bannock City, Boise mines, on the 21st of June, by a man named Wilson. It is said that Graham was the aggressor, attacking Wilson with a knife, after having tried to punish him a la Heenan. Wilson also had a knife, and at the first pass slew his assailant.

Reported Free Fight.—It is reported that a terrible affray had taken place at the new mines on Owyhee, between the discoverers and a party of "jumpers" from Boise. It is said that seven men were killed, and the discoverers held their claims. The story is not generally believed, and is probably manufactured from whole cloth.

Postmasters and Postoffices.—A new postoffice has been established at Forest Cove, Baker county, Oregon.

The following postmasters have been appointed: J. H. Alvord, Florence, Idaho Territory; Samuel G. French, Forest Cove, Baker county; Wm. F. Douk, Skookum Chuck, W. T.; Wm. Bratton, Sr., Pekin, Clark county, W. T.

South Boise Mines.—The new mines, on the waters of South Boise, continue to be favorably spoken of. The quartz discoveries, bearing both gold and silver, are exciting much attention, and sales of feet at the mines have been made at high figures.

The leading Republican journals of the east, including the Times and Tribune, unite in repeating, for the thousandth time, that emancipation is an unavoidable and happy incident, not the object, avowed or concealed, of the war for the preservation of the Union. None but fools or secesh Democrats deny this plain proposition.

Sharp.—The Sonora Democrat—a rank disunion sheet—says that "it is not the most pleasant occupation in the world to publish a Democratic paper just now." To this, the Flag rejoins that "there may be occupations still more disagreeable, but there are certainly none meaner."

Letter from Boise Mines.

Placerville, Idaho Terr., June 25, 1863.

Editor Oregonian:

The singular energy displayed by the miners in this part of the country, in the matter of taking up and recording claims, is one of the wonders of the age. The same amount of enterprise applied to the working of the claims would assuredly make a fortune for all concerned. So industrious have men been, in this particular, that the country is plastered over with claims to the extent of about three thicknesses; and, as a matter of course, two out of three claims are not worth a Confederate shinplaster; besides the probable litigation will diminish the real value of many good claims. There are exceptions to the above rather sweeping remarks, but they are like rich claims at Auburn—few and far between.

HOW IT COMES THAT PEOPLE TAKE UP SO MANY CLAIMS.

In all the districts of these mines, a man may hold a hill claim, a gulch claim, a bar claim, and a creek claim. The size of claims varies in different districts; but in any one of them a miner may take up enough ground to make a small farm. These claims must be worked when there is water to be procured in certain quantities, varying with the character of the claims. If each claim is not represented once in seven days, it is "jumpable," unless the owner records his claim, takes out a certificate of record and posts the same on his claim. Some of these certificates are torn or blown down; others are so posted as to escape observation, and others do not describe the ground claimed. So, a hungry prospector comes along; his wits sharpened by his necessities, and thinks there is a flaw in the manner of taking up a claim; and he at once jumps the claim, and goes through the same routine of claiming, recording and posting.—Shortly afterward, perhaps, both of the claimants rush wildly off to some mining excitement, leaving the claims to the tender mercies of some smart fellow who never runs to excitements, but is waiting for just such an opportunity to procure claims as the two first have left him.

In quartz mines, there appears to be a favorable opportunity for a conflict of claims. Some companies have perfectly clear titles; but many are claimed as frequently, and abandoned as often, as placer mines. From the vast number of notices posted, records made and claims deserted, I am led to believe that there has been a sinful waste of stationery in this country; but all this is as nothing to what it will be when litigation commences about claims.

LOCATION OF THE OWYHEE MINES.

The new discoveries on the tributaries of the Owyhee are about sixty miles from the mouth of that stream, and are distant about one hundred and twenty miles from Bannock City. They can be reached from Walla Walla in about fifty miles more travel than the Boise mines. There is nothing definite in regard to the extent of the discoveries, and there are many conflicting stories about their richness. Whether good or bad, we are expecting a retrograde rush of miners from Owyhee.

HOW PEOPLE BEHAVE AT THE BOISE MINES.

A person who has had the good or bad fortune to witness the social condition of affairs at Florence, Oro Fino or Elk City, will be agreeably disappointed at the peaceful and law-abiding conduct of the inhabitants of this basin. Since my arrival here I have but once heard any man propose to blow the top of any other man's head off, nor to shoot him through the bowels. Threats to punch a man's head, burst his crust or split his snout, are of rare occurrence, and seldom carried into execution. In fact, fighting and rowdying are out of fashion, and peace is the order of the day. Whisky-drinking is not so universal as in former times, although there are still many who seek consolation for disappointed hopes in the flowing bowl.

MODE OF DOING BUSINESS.

An opinion had grown up in this northern country that unless a miner's claim paid he was not under any very weighty obligation to pay his trader's, butcher's and other bills. I do not say that this was the general standard of honesty, but it was that of a considerable proportion of the mining population. To bring back these men to their original standpoint of conscience became a moral as well as financial obligation on the part of the trading community. It was quite plain that argument and persuasion would not have been effectual, so they resorted to the practice of demanding payment every Saturday night or the grub department would suspend its issues. I am happy to say that these somewhat coercive measures have had the desired effect, and a more prompt paying, high-toned and honorable collection of miners cannot be found than in these mines; and it is to the greedy sons of Mammon, called traders, that we are indebted for the reformation of many hard cases, to whom the eloquent clergymen of your city might have preached until they split their throats, without producing any more effect than the wind does on the bronze Indian in front of a cigar shop. Yes, if their lungs were of triple brass, and their voices like the trumpet of the angel Gabriel, they could not have wrought this miracle.

PROSPECT FOR FAMILIES COMING TO BOISE.

This is no place at present for respectable women. The lack of suitable houses and the inferior character of the diet here, will be found almost intolerable to women, most of whom can form but a slight conception of the hardships to be borne by them—not the least of them being the lack of privacy and the absence of all the conveniences for housekeeping.

While upon this topic, I may as well relate some things that I observed, which will serve to illustrate the position of women in the mines. In passing through the streets of Bannock one day, I saw a woman, evidently of respectable breeding, packing two large buckets of water. She was a person of delicate appearance, clothed in garments of mean quality, faded and tattered. The fact of her being dressed in such a manner was a sufficient proof that she was an honest woman. At the same time there passed on the other side of the street a woman bespangled with jewelry, and flounced to the waist in garments of great cost. Her dress and air were not those of an honest woman. You may say that these things are to be seen in every city; but they can never strike the beholder with so much force as when they are seen here, because there is no such startling contrast as between the extreme poverty on one side and splendor on the other.

Coming in from a prospecting tour, by an unfrequented trail, I met a man and his wife, who were bound for Bannock. Both were afoot, and their baggage was packed on a single pony. Night was coming on, and it was impossible for them to reach even the shelter of a tent for that night. The wife looked tired and sad, but resolute. She was young and pretty, and plainly a woman of refinement. After asking some questions about a camping-place, they passed on; and I looked after them, penetrated to the heart with a sentiment of respect for womankind, of which I had no consciousness before. For there can be nothing more affecting than a wife's devotion to a man in poverty and hardship. A huge mastiff accompanied this couple, and he was in the highest glee, bounding and rollicking along the path after them. I wanted but this honest dog to complete the picture.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to June 29th.

New York, June 30.—A special dispatch from Lancaster of the 1st says signals have been seen and firing heard last night at Columbia in the direction of Gettysburg, which continued till 3 o'clock this morning. At times the cannonading was rapid and heavy. The Federals occupied York in force.

Rear of Vicksburg, June 26.—Yesterday, under orders from General Grant, the whole line moved to the position for an assault. The first line through covered approaches and trenches, moved into assigned places. At 3 o'clock four signal guns near Logan's tent gave the signal. As the steel struck a mine under the parapet of a fort in Mickerson's front, it exploded, throwing the works high in the air and opening a large fissure. On the instant of the explosion, every gun on our side opened with a tremendous fire. Four regiments from Logan's and two from Quimby's division charged by flank through, and into the fort. The rebels returned to the rifle pits and the rear. A sharp musket fire followed, in which our working party threw up earthworks, while hand grenades and 30 pound shells were used with terrible effect on the rebels in their pits. In the meantime the rebels massed in heavy force and drove our men out. As they moved to the charge our batteries opened, sweeping them by hundreds, and the rebels under Gen. Ulm were repulsed. The destruction of the fort revealed their undermines. The stockades are built of large logs.

Headquarters Logan's Division, June 26.—A heavy fire was kept up all day. Our men have been able to throw up considerable earthworks around the center and within the fort. The rebels prevented us from getting their guns by throwing ignited shells over their parapets. A heavy artillery fire was kept up along the whole line during the night to prevent the rebels from concentrating on that point. Our loss in the affair yesterday may reach 300 in killed and wounded. That of the enemy must have been severe.

Newbern, June 28th.—The Wilmington Journal gives full details of our movements here, naming the regiments departing and giving their destination before advices had been sent North for publication. The Journal thinks the remarkable celerity of Foster's movements is just cause for great apprehension, and says he will slip into Richmond while the rebels are napping, unless well watched.

Tullahoma, June 30th.—The situation of affairs has materially changed. It has rained for the last 48 hours and the roads are unusually heavy, but Rosecrans pushes on.

Col. Wilder's command has returned from an expedition to Dechard. He defeated and drove out a small garrison and burned a bridge.

The Chattanooga Rebel says the rebel loss at Beach Grove was 100 killed and 400 or 500 wounded. Gen. Steadman made a reconnoisance within two miles of Tullahoma. Two regiments were encountered and an engagement ensued when the enemy gave way without much resistance. Gen. Thomas, who accompanied the column reports the enemy in force in their works.

Richmond, July 2.—A few transports approached the White House this morning, and a small force landed.

Philadelphia, July 3.—A special dispatch from Harrisburg says, a considerable force under Gen. Knipe marched up the valley towards Carlisle. A supply train was also sent which encountered the rebels and returned to Harrisburg.

Heavy firing is heard in the direction of Carlisle. No doubt an engagement is going on. The fight is probably near Mechanicsburg.

Washington, July 2.—Letters from the army of the Potomac say our last movements have been characterized by marked intelligence and a disposition on the part of the officers and soldiers to undergo any fatigue within the power of human endurance.

We also quote from the Sacramento Union the following later items by telegraph than we have before published:

New York, July 1st.—Gold this morning, forty-five.

Philadelphia, June 30th.—The sales of five-twenties to date exceed a hundred and forty millions. It is possible the Secretary of the Treasury will continue for a brief period the sale of this loan.

The rout of the rebels at Gettysburg, by Pleasonton, will cause them to evacuate York, and will relieve Baltimore from the expected attack of Early's division.

The troops stationed at Harrisburg expect that the rebels will take up position near York Hills and Yellow Breeches Creek, thus protecting the advance of Lee's army from attacks by forces from Baltimore or Columbia. The richest and fairest portion of the State is now in the hands of the rebels. Unless they are defeated quickly no crops can be secured, as all the farmers have fled from their homes, trying to save their horses and cattle by fleeing. In this position Lee awaits the attack of the Army of the Potomac.

From reports the rebels intend making a stay in the Keystone State. Ewell's family, who are natives of York, and have been residing there eighteen months, are reported as having joined him. The wives and daughters of other officers in the rebel army are reported to be with them, enjoying themselves at Caledonia and Doubling Gap Springs, in the vicinity of Carlisle.

The main body of Lee's army is concentrated at Shippensburg, forty miles from Harrisburg, with the right flank extending on the road leading to Gettysburg and York, while the left flank rests on the Blue Ridge. Ewell's and Hill's corps are in front.

The rebels are reported fortifying Doubling, Sterrit's and McClure's Gaps, so as to secure their line of retreat if we should defeat them.

Trains that have arrived from Harrisburg and the West, including one from Columbia, are crowded with refugees from the southern counties of the State, many of them destitute.

Memphis, June 25.—It is reported that Gen. Hovey, on the extreme left, mined and blew up a part of the enemy's works opposite him the same day, June 20.

Manchester (Tenn.), June 30.—Our advance in the direction of Tullahoma has been skirmishing with the enemy's videttes. Dispositions are being made and important events transpiring, definite mention of which would be contraband.

New York, June 30.—Passengers by the Columbia state that the bombardment has made but little impression on the Port Hudson works. The cautious movements of Banks indicated that he relied for ultimate success more upon troops than upon the lack of supplies in the garrison. The position of our army is such that the gunboats cannot co-operate, and all the firing by them had ceased.

There was said to be a large army under Magruder and Breckinridge in the rear of Banks, whose object seems to be to surround him and cut off his supplies. Magruder's force is estimated at ten thousand; Breckinridge's at seventeen thousand. Guerrillas infest the river, and large quantities of supplies for Banks' army had been captured.

A strong rebel force made a raid in Donaldsonville, Louisiana, but were repulsed by the gunboats.

Sam Houston and Texas.—The old story of plots to take Texas out of the Union and set up for her an independent government, is revived under circumstances which give to it no small degree of plausibility. The N. Y. Tribune recently stated:

News has reached this city direct from Matamoros, and which comes from such a source that there seems to be no reason for doubting, that Sam Houston will be a candidate for the office of Governor, against some half a dozen competitors, on the Lone Star platform. In other words we are told that it is his programme to re-establish the Republic of Texas. When Texas shall have been cut off, by the occupation of the Mississippi river, from its connection with the military despotism of Jeff Davis, it will be natural for her people to think of reviving the Republic, and if our government does not occupy some portion of her territory before the first Monday in August next, Houston's project may be carried into effect. It is only, however, Secession under a new guise, and the grounds urged in its favor are not even plausible.

The President.—A New Bedford soldier in Douglas Hospital, Washington, writes under date of May 27th: "Last Sunday the President visited this Hospital. He went all over it, and shook hands with us all. He gave my hand a real hearty shake. He is very thin, and looks as if he would not live long. He said it made him feel bad to see us poor fellows suffering. He is a fine man."

Dr. Wm Hall's Balsam.—This famous remedy for CONSUMPTION has reached a distinction and popularity far beyond any other like medicine before the public. The certificates from physicians and Medical Professors, are a sure guaranty for the superiority and efficacy of this medicine.

I had been afflicted with the disease for more than six months, and my victuals disturbed my stomach, often to such a degree as to cause vomiting. I was most of the time costive. I found that the Pills kept my bowels open, without griping or pain. I have actually gained, since using them, in weight—being ten pounds heavier than when I commenced. The Mechanics' Band.—We learn some of our citizens, admirers of this B propose by subscription to raise an amo sufficient to furnish them with a neat and viceable uniform. We hope the propos will succeed, and we have no doubt tha will, if the Band are willing, as is now re sented to us, to give concerts on the P Square one or two evening in each week d ing the summer. The sacrifice of time a money necessary to make a band what ought to be, is very great, as our read know, but their performances, so desirabl absolutely demanded by the various c made upon them seems to require that spe consideration should be given to a suggest like that we have mentioned.

The Weather.—During the past few d the weather has been delightful, and cloudless sky, genial sunshine and brac atmosphere are doubly welcome, followi as they do, the heavy Oregonian mist mud that culminated on the Fourth. Tr the piercing rays of Old Sol at mid-day ca perspiring pedestrians to seek the shady si of the street, and create an unlimited dema for cool summer wear and refreshing julep yet even then does he gladden our hearts, he enriches and mellows the luscious fruit a ripens the golden grain. But how cool a fragrant is the air of the morning and eve ing! To ramble then in the green fields shady woods is a luxury only truly enjoy by the invalid or the burner of the m night oil.

Benefit of Mrs. G. B. Waldron.—Th popular and attractive artiste will take h first benefit in Portland this (Thursday) eve ing. Mrs. W. offers a most attractive bill this occasion, producing, for the first time this city, a new and interesting local comed entitled "K. G. C.; or, Our War Correspond ent," together with an effective drama, sing ing, dancing, recitation, &c. Since residi in our midst Mrs. W. has ever been a gre favorite with the patrons of the drama, a we have no doubt that as "Mariette" sh will not only sustain her enviable reputatio but will add new laurels to the wreath s has already won. We trust our gallant cit zens will testify their appreciation of the fa beneficiary by an overflowing house th most substantial evidence of their "golde opinions."

Carter's New Buildings.—These build ings, spoken of yesterday, will be two-storie high instead of three. They will be one hun dred feet square, and contain seven store-room —five on Front street and two on Washing ton. The upper story is to be used as a hotel The basement will be of stone, and the uppe story of brick, and the whole structure is to b an ornament as well as a useful and perma nent improvement to the city.

Beth-Israel School.—The third term o the Beth-Israel school will close this (Thurs day) but the public exercises will be omitte until the close of the next quarter, so tha they may be held in the new schoolhouse which is now nearly completed. The numbe of scholars during the past quarter has bee thirty-five, and the school being under the in struction of three competent teachers, is in good state of prosperity.

The Late Bogus News.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial writes as follows:

An investigation has been had into the origin of the taking of Richmond stories which so convulsed the entire North a month since, and it turns out that the whole thing was a pure invention, for which the Government and the telegraph were not in anywise responsible. The report originated in the brain of a Philadelphia broker, who went from Washington and palmed off his "information" upon the too susceptible Philadelphia Inquirer, who in turn bulletined it as coming from a Washington correspondent of the paper. The Philadelphia evening journals copied it, and added to it, as coming from "private sources," the confirmatory street reports which were gotten up so speedily upon the publication. An attempt was made to telegraph the printed copy to New York, but the War Department prohibited it, and it was sent through on a late train to New York by a special messenger.—Thence it was telegraphed by the Independent Telegraph Company to Boston, &c., an order prohibiting its transmission over the other lines having been issued. From Philadelphia it was sent West over a railroad line. The simple result of the whole matter shows that it was a bold movement for speculative purposes, which a too strict telegraph censorship gave a wide berth for circulation.

Shipment of Cattle.—On Monday morning last, the Eliza Anderson took on board a load of cattle from Webber's wharf, for San Juan Island. If the prohibitory order mentioned last week should be enforced, cattle, live or dressed, will find their way to Victoria via San Juan and Whatcom. The schooner Flying Mist also took on board about a hundred head from Keach's wharf on Tuesday, for Victoria; a clearance for this lot, we understand, having been secured before the prohibition. This will probably be the last shipment until the order is vacated.—P. S. Herald.

It is very singular I cannot obtain decent employment. Jones, with not half my ability, is always looked after when an important position is to be filled, while I can get nothing worth having. Jones buys his clothing of Heuston, Hastings & Co., of Lick House, corner of Montgomery and Sutter streets, San Francisco, and Smith patronizes the slop shops, abounding everywhere. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Portland R. A. Chapter No. 3.—The Regular Convocation of R. A. Chapter No. 3 will be held at Willamette Hall, A. F. & A. M., on Thursday evening, 9th inst. Visiting R. A. M.'s are invited to attend.

When Green Leaves Come Again

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

When green leaves come again, my love,
  When fresh leaves come again
Why put on such a cloudy face
  When green leaves come again.

"Ah, this spring will be like the last,
  Of promise false and vain
And summer die in wintry tears
  Ere green leaves come again."

So slip the seasons—and our lives
  'Tis idle to complain
But yet I sigh, I scarce know why
  When green leaves come again.

Now lift thy thankful eyes, my sweet
  Count equal loss and gain
Because as long as this world lasts
  Green leaves will come again

For as sure as earth lives under snow
  And love lives under pain
'Tis good to sing with everything
  "When green leaves come again."

READING ONE'S OBITUARY.—In the days of Old Mycall, the publisher of the Newburyport Herald, (journal still alive and flourishing,) the Sheriff of old Essex, Philip Bagley, had been asked several times to pay his arrears of subscription. At last one day he told Mycall that he would certainly hand over the next morning as sure as he lived. "If you don't get your money to-morrow you may be sure I am dead," said he. The morrow came and passed, but no money. Judge of the Sheriff's feelings when, on the morning of the day after, he opened his Herald, and saw announced the lamented decease of Philip Bagley, Esq., High Sheriff of the county of Essex, with an obituary notice, attached, giving the deceased credit for a good many excellent traits of character, but adding that he had one fault very much to be deplored, he was not punctual in paying the printer. Bagley, without waiting for his breakfast, started for the Herald office. On the way, it struck him as singular that none of the many friends and acquaintances he met seemed to be surprised to see him. They must have read their morning paper. Was it possible they cared so little about him as to have forgotten that he was no more? Full of perturbation, he entered the printing office, to deny that he was dead in propria persona.

"Why, Sheriff," exclaimed the facetious editor, "I thought you were defunct."

"Defunct!" exclaimed the Sheriff, "what put that idea in your head?"

"Why, you, yourself," said Mycall. "Did you not tell me—"

"Oh! ah!" stammered out the Sheriff. "Well, there's your money. And you contradict the report in your next paper, if you please."

"That's not necessary, friend Bagley," said the old joker, "it was only printed in your copy."

The good Sheriff lived many years after this "sell," and to the day of his real death, always took good care to pay the printer.

HOW A POLITICIAN GOT A WIFE AND SAVED NINETY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Journal tells the following story:

Quite a sharp business transaction in a marital way has been done here—if report is true—by one of our successful and most unscrupulous politicians. Having some money, he wanted a wife from a stratum in society a little above what he was accustomed to move in, so he sought the hand of one of the fair damsels of Gotham. As his political prospects were quite high, he was referred to "Pa." The old man, with mercantile frankness, laid his child at the disposal of the seeker on condition that he would give his daughter one hundred thousand dollars, secured on real estate. The man in want of a wife was both able and willing to do so. The matter was thus settled, and the wedding preparations went onward. An elegant house in an aristocratic locality, was taken, and the good bargain of the fair one was the theme of general comment. As the hour drew near when the happy pair were to be made one, the father hinted that the little mercantile transaction preliminary to the marriage should be attended to. "Oh, yes—oh, certainly, certainly," the bland politician said. But it was not till the afternoon of the bridal day that the proper papers, in due form, were laid before the gratified papa. So the wedding ran along, an account of which gratified New York and produced a sensation that lasted two days. Upon subsequent examination it was found that on the same day, bearing even date with the marriage settlement, a mortgage on the same property duly recorded before the delivery of the said one hundred thousand dollars to the bride, was made conveying the said property to a near and sharp relative for ninety-five thousand dollars, leaving the girl with a settlement of five thousand dollars.

A bashful Yokel was paying addresses to a gay lass of the country, who had long despaired of bringing things to a crisis. Yokel called one day, when she alone was at home. After settling the merits of the weather, Miss said, looking slyly into his face—"I dreamed of you last night." "Did you? Why, now!" "Yes, I dreamed you kissed me." "Why, now! what did you dream your mother said?" "Oh, I dreamed she wasn't at home!" A light dawned on Yokel's intellect, and directly something was heard to crack—perhaps it was Yokel's whip.

"My dear madam, can you give me a glass of whisky?" asked a fatigued traveler in Arkansas, as he entered a cabin on the wayside.

"I ain't got a drop, stranger," replied the woman.

"But a gentleman told me that you had a barrel."

"Why, good gracious," replied the woman, "what do you reckon one barrel of whisky is to me and the children, when we are out of milk?"

A TART REPLY.—The Detroit Advertiser contained a leader headed, "Political Nuisances," aimed at Horace Greeley, to which H. G. replies: "If the editor of the Advertiser will be good enough to return the $200 he borrowed (or was it begged?) of us to establish himself in said paper, he shall be most welcome to say what he pleases of us thereafter, without reply or comment."

WAR DEMOCRATS AND VALLANDIGHAM.—It is amusing to hear men who favor the prosecution of the war affect indignation at the arrest of Vallandigham. Do they not know that that and all other similar acts of despotic power are "war measures," for which they and they alone are responsible? If those valiant warlike Democrats had not rushed into the war there would have been no war, and it would not now be continued. Our Albany Democratic friends are full of wrath because Vallandigham was arrested, and yet within a month they got up an address affixing the signatures of members in some cases without authority, pledging the Democratic party to a vigorous prosecution of the war. Out upon such hypocrisy! It is downright knavery.—New York Daily News, May 19th.

A young married woman, whose husband has "gone to the war," heard in conversation the remark that the Government wanted more cavalry and more infantry. She replied that she knew nothing about cavalry, but added, with a sigh, that if more infantry was needed the Government had better send some of the volunteers home again.

RETALIATION.—Captain Lewis, of the whaling bark Lafayette, which was burned by the pirate Alabama, writes that Captain Semmes says that he wants to destroy all the vessels belonging to J. H. Bartlett & Sons, of New Bedford, because they fitted out the stone fleet for the blockade of Charleston Harbor.

"Tom," said a man to his friend the other day, "I think it is highly dangerous to keep the small bills of Eastern banks on hand."

"Tom," said the other, "I find it more difficult than dangerous."

It is reported that General Bragg telegraphed to Jeff. Davis as to what he should do with Vallandigham. Davis replied that if Mr. Vallandigham would take the oath of allegiance to the Southern Confederacy, to receive him, and if not, to send him back.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of Letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise would be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters":

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans:—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
